About the project The project was established to enable students to create new designs in different branches of art using recycled materials. It is planned to enable students to develop their own unique works by developing their talents, interests and skills. It is planned to make an art work from materials thrown into the nature. Studies have been planned for recycling to gain importance.

It is aimed to raise self-confident, sensitive and conscious individuals who are aware of their own competence by participating in artistic activities, gain creative thinking skills by doing artistic activities from waste materials.
